Re: Bowlslink Access

Ref: 21010

Due to a number of governance and privacy issues all clubs must cease accessing Bowlslink (BL) via the generic email address for each club. Access via the generic email will be withdrawn on the 31st July. The designated club admin (has access to all information) must access BL using their own personal account, that means using their email address which is registered in BL. Any club admin that does not have an email address registered in BL or if you are unsure, please contact the Chairman, Match ASAP. A list of club admins is attached below. Those with their National Identity Number (NIN) next to their name have their personal email address registered and verified in BL. If you can verify that your personal email address is registered in BL and your NIN is not next to your name please contact the Chairman, Match ASAP.

Every club has the option to split the access (and workload) between two members using their personal account. One, the club admin, would have complete access to all information (both Membership and Competition) and the other would have access only to the Competition module. This is highly recommended for all clubs.

Clubs are to send an email ASAP to the Chairman, Match confirming who the club admin is and who will be the competition member.

There is another facility within BL which we will pursue later in the year. That is to give temporary access to members of pennant sides to allow them to confirm results for matches whilst they are playing away from their club instead of waiting until they return to their home club.. This access may be amended each week during pennants.

This may seem daunting at first and if anyone has any queries with these procedures please let me know as soon as possible.

Every affiliated member (male or female) may have access to their personal details in BL. If there are any members wanting to access their personal BL account to check their details this may be done as well.

Contact the Chairman, Match for information on how this can be done.
